

To Say “No”, or NOT To Say “No”?

Your uncle is babysitting for you. He lifts you off the couch and asks you to go to bed because it is late

To Say “No”, or NOT To Say “No”?

A high school student on your school bus tries to make you smoke a cigarette

To Say “No”, or NOT To Say “No”?

Your older brother pats your shoulder and tells you to do your homework

To Say “No”, or NOT To Say “No”?

Your grandmother pats your head and asks you to go to the store for her

To Say “No”, or NOT To Say “No”?

Someone at recess hits you so hard that it leaves a bruise

To Say “No”, or NOT To Say “No”?

Your friend next door takes your hand and offers you a ride on her bike, and you don't have a helmet

To Say “No”, or NOT To Say “No”?

Your older cousin grabs your hand and offers you a sip of beer

To Say “No”, or NOT To Say “No”?

Your adult neighbor waves you over and asks you to help rake the leaves in his front yard

To Say “No”, or NOT To Say “No”?

Your friend's older sibling keeps talking about you in a way that makes you feel really bad about yourself

“Good” or “Bad” Secrets?

Dad bought a present for Grandpa’s birthday. He asked the children to keep it a secret.

“Good” or “Bad” Secrets?

An adult you know and like pinched you so hard it left a bruise, and then told you to promise not to tell anyone else

“Good” or “Bad” Secrets?

Sean stutters when he talks. Two of the other children on the street are always teasing him about it. They see you watching them, and tell you to keep your mouth shut about it.

“Good” or “Bad” Secrets?

Your friend’s mom is going to have a new baby. Your friend tells you to keep it a secret until her mom can tell the rest of the family.

“Good” or “Bad” Secrets?

Jessica won the “Sports Person of the Year” award in her school. The teacher told the other children to keep it a secret until the award ceremony.

“Good” or “Bad” Secrets?

An older boy touched Jason on the private parts of his body. He gave Jason some candy and told him that he had to keep it a secret.